Keynote Speaker: Norm Miller, Interstate Batteries Chairman

Norm Miller, Interstate Batteries Chairman, began his career with the company shortly after graduating from North Texas State University (now University of North Texas). He has moved through the ranks of Interstate – from his father's Tennessee distributorship, to the National Field Sales team at Dallas corporate headquarters, and on to the helm of Interstate's Executive Management Team.

Miller assumed the President and Chairman roles after working 16 years under his mentor, company-founder John Searcy. Since then, Interstate has grown to become the number one replacement battery in North America.

Additionally, Miller led the company in the founding of the Interstate Batteries Great American Race in 1983 and it became the world's richest old car race and American's premier vintage car event. In 1989, he pioneered Interstate's entry into NASCAR racing. Teaming up with Joe Gibbs Racing in 1992, Interstate won the Daytona 500 in 1993, the Winston Cup Championship in 2000, and the prestigious Sprint Cup Championship in 2015.

Following a major live changing event, Miller has maintained a commitment for spiritual development, as has the Interstate management team. As a result, Interstate encourages employees to develop fully as individuals, not just professionals. With the stress and pressures of the times, combined with those of career and family, it is crucial for people to have access to spiritual support. Interstate management believes the workplace is included, and therefore they try to make God's love and help a priority in business.

Norm and his wife, Anne, have been married for 54 years and have two children, Tracy and Scott; five grandchildren, and one great-grandson.
